

Conference cycle

"Europe and the migration crises"

Detailed program

Introductory Lecture: Current Issues

Tuesday, October 12, 2021, from 6 pm to 8 pm (Amphitheater 2 EGGER Building, FDSP Aix-en-Provence)

The aim of this conference is to present the various conferences of the cycle and to give participants an overview of the European legal framework on migration and, more generally, of the humanitarian situation of migrants in different parts of Europe.

Speakers

Soran Azad, Political refugee from Iraqi Kurdistan

Valérie Michel, Professor of Public Law at Aix-Marseille University, Jean Monnet Chair

Mariana Leyva, CERIC PhD student and Program Officer, INTERSOS

Focus on the Mediterranean: Legal and humanitarian issues in hotspots

Thursday, October 14, 2021, from 5:30 pm to 7 pm (Zoom hybrid meeting and room 36, FDSP Aix-en-Provence)

This conference aims to provide an overview of the main challenges of the European migration system, at the procedural and litigation level, as well as the humanitarian challenges faced by practitioners when working in these hotspots.

Speakers

Marine Georgis, Case Manager, Auditus Foundation

Asunción Tobaada Lanza, Program Coordinator, Jesuite Refugee Services

Christianna Mourouzi, Humanitarian Affairs Officer, MSF Greece

Focus on Hungary: Questions related to the rule of law

Wednesday, October 20, 2021, from 5:30 pm to 7 pm (Zoom hybrid meeting and room 36, FDSP Aix-en-Provence)

The conference addresses the issues and challenges that a divergent national policy can have on general European cohesion and the implementation of the rule of law, as well as the specific humanitarian barriers that migrants face through this policy.

Speakers

Grusa Matevzic, Senior Legal Advisor, Hungarian Helsinki Committee

Romain Tinière, Professor of Public Law at the University of Grenoble Alpes, Jean Monnet Chair

Externalisation of European migration policy and rescue at sea

Thursday, November 4, 2021, from 5:30 pm to 7 pm (Zoom hybrid meeting and room 36, FDSP Aix-en-Provence)

The aim of this conference is to provide an overview of the legal tools with non-EU countries and the humanitarian consequences that flow from them, particularly with regard to rescue operations at sea in the Mediterranean.

Speakers

Jérôme Grimaud, Protection Referent, Sea Watch

Julien Tribout, PhD student in public law (AMU), Academic assistant at the College of Europe

Focus on Ceuta and Melilla: the specificity of enclaves

Thursday, November 18, 2021, from 5:30 pm to 7 pm (Zoom hybrid meeting and room 36, FDSP Aix-en-Provence)

The conference focuses on the particular rules applicable in these territories as European enclaves in Africa and the humanitarian challenges faced by migrants when entering the European Union through this point of entry.

Speakers

Josep Buades Fuster, Team Coordinator, Jesuite Refugee Service, South Border

Cristina Churruca Muguruza, Director of the Erasmus Mundus NOHA master's in international Humanitarian Action

Closing Conference: Future Prospects

Thursday, November 25, 2021, from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. (Amphithéâtre Favoreu, FDSP Aix-en-Provence)

This final round table summarises the various issues envisaged throughout the cycle and provides, in a fairly free way, perspectives on the way forward through specific examples (e.g. reform of the Dublin Regulation, specific situation of migrant minors, human trafficking, etc.).

Speakers

Delphine Leneutre, Legal Associate, Office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees
